NASBY AT CHAPPAQUA.

THE JUBILICATION OVER THE OCTOBER ELECTIONS—ANOTHER TRIP PROPOSED AND OPPOSED.

CHAPPAQUA
(wich is in the State uv Noo York)
Oct. 11 1872

It wuz nite a Chapqaqua. The wild wind sighed mournfully about the dreary house and blew chill and sad among the denuded branches uv the fallen trees wich the philosopher and sage had cut down durin the campane (Ez he had to be alluz surprised cuttin down a tree, he didn't uv course hev time to trim em all.) The cold autumnal rain wuz a fallin in a melancolly drizzle, and the frost king's damp and icy finger lied to chad the famous spring wich it wuz hermetically a sealin uv. For wich, thank heaven. Ef that spring could be friz up so that my bowels, which requires sutthin heatin, shood never be persekooted no more with its accused waters I shood be happy. Inside the house we sot. We had gathered to jollify over our expected triumph in Ohio, Injiany and Pennsylvany—We had reseved the news and wuz jollifyin. There wuz the great and good Greeley himself there wuz Tilton uv the curly locks, and Reid of the crafty face, there was Cochrane and McClure, and leadin men of Pennsylvany, uv the South and West.

We wuz jollifyin! Down the furrowed cheek uv each, the pensive tear wuz rollin, and each wuz usin his pocket handkercher at his eyes, probably to conceal his joy.

We sot long in silence a studyin the returns. Then the great and good Greeley spoke. He rejoiced over the victory he hed achieved in the three states, though he would say in candor that the victory wuzn't ez complete ez he cood hev wished. But their wuz every cozz fer congratulashen and rejoicin. The majority agin us in Ohio wuz only 20,000. Now there is, in round numbers, 2,000 election precincts in that state, and el only five Republicans in each change from the tyrant Grant to me, why I carry it. Likewise so in Pennsylvany and Injiany. The ishoo is now narrowed to the two, and who kin coubt the result? Is not that comfortin enuff?

The response was a most hilarious and enthusiastic groan from all present.

Mr. Leverich, an importer fron Noo York, remarked that the result in the West wuz doubtless, becoz Mr. Greeley would persist in lettin out that he wuz a protectionist.

Mr. McGregor uv Pennsylvania swore in good Scotch that the result in Pennsylvany mite be attributed solely to the fact that he ignored perteckshen and wuz a dallying with free traders.

Kernel McWelter uv Kentucky remarked that his abolishunism, which he threw out on his trip, lost him his strength in Southern Ohio and Injiany.

Mr. Placid uv Northern Ohio wuz certain that his appolegisin for bevin bin an abolishunist at Jeffersonville rolled up the fearful majorities agin him in Northern Ohio and Injiany

Capt Hoolar, late quartermaster in the federal army, wuz satisfied that the abooseuv the sojers in Pittsburg cost him the sojer vote.

Major Biggins uv Virginia, late C S A, knowed that his coketting with the federal sojers lost him the support uv the friends uv the South in three states.

To all uv wich I listened and then I gave my views. We wuz beaten—or to put it ez mildly ez possible, we failed to acheeve a decisive victory by attemptin too much—we tried to kiver too much ground. The great and good Horris, under whom I fondly hoped to hev a postoffis, is too versatile in his principles. It wood be money in his pocket if he c'od reverse the order. Ef his principles wuz ez strategeful ez his method by callin a man a d—d villain he wood be entirely great. When a man runs for president, and tries to consiliate free traders, protectionists, federal sojers, confederits, abolitionists, pro slavery men, with a dozen other vanities bur in, he undertakes a large job I never did wuz yit, and never will I wuz with the decent—that is our noble cheef—at the way. It wuz not encouragin when he wuz makin a speech, say in Pittsburg, supportin tariff, to see in a bulletin board opposit the [illegible] speech he made the day afore, in Noo Jersey, leavin tariff entirely to the congressional districks—It wuz not altogether a pleasant thing at Jeffersonville, when we felt it our dooty to apologise for our bevin bin a abolishunist, to hev the speeches wich we made three days afore in the Pennsylvany denouncin slavery, poked into our face. In short, we wuz a ridin too many hosses, and the trouble wuz, them wuz all a pullin in different direckshens. We undertook to sit on a dozen different stools, and ez we are in that portion uv our body, we aint broad enuff. It doesn't matter to me or to Cochrane, or Tilton, or McClure. With us it is a simple question uv winnin. There is the camp uv the enemy to plunder, and so us the method uv takin it don't matter. I found several sich in every township. The fellow whose sole pants for a post offis ez the heart pantith for the water course will do just ez I did. He'll bust his hat enthusiastically for tariff at Johnstown to-day, and for free trade in Illinoy to-morrow. But the people dont all want post offises ez bar ez we do, and consekently don't bust with that ease. So fur ez I am concerned, I—

Here Mr Greeley interrupted me. He wuz entirely convinced that success in November was assured. He hed bin embarrassed in the October election with county, deestrict and State tickets. Now that is redooced to a strate issue between me and Grant it is different. I shel go into the canvass myself. I shel accept inv taishens to address agricultooral societies, and shel make a personal toor—

"Don't!" exclaimed the entire assemblage, throwin theirselves on their knees before him, ez one man, with tears a streamin down their cheeks. "Don't—"

"Sir!" sed I sternly, (for I felt the time hed come for plain talk,) "ef you will go, uv course you must. There is nothin in the constitooshin uv the Confederate States that prevents a man from making a fool uv hisself. That is one of our reserved rites. But, gentle sir, listen to advice I repeat, 'Don't!' I kin stand it. I am an old man, and hev but a few days to linger. You are an old man, and wot happens to you, don't matter. We hev neether uv us much uv life or character to loose. But hev pity on these young men! Think of Tilton and Reid, and don't carry them any further down than possible. They [illegible] and go West, but it will kill em. Hev pity on em. But if you will go—go prepared to meet it as the damage will be done as possible. [illegible] the telegraf wires, so that reports uv your speeches kin by no means be sent out. To make assurance doubly shoor, leave behind yoo skillful burglars who shel destroy the mails, that reports shel not go out in that way. And fortunately every speech you make, write a note book and pencil. Put yourself in position to deny what yoo hev sed whenever it may be deemed necessary. By sich thorough and rigid [illegible] you wood be [illegible]

[illegible]

Roads, where, ef the livin aint so good, I commune daily with better men I have sed"

The sage concloded, finally, not to go, but rather to trust the sober second thought uv the people

The jig is up. I commenst borrowin money this mornin uv every man who comes to Chappaqua. That pressages immejit deparcher. I tried to sekoor a soot of Horrises clothes, but the only one I found wuz a soot we bought in the spring and rubbed all over with earth, towear when we wuz surprised diggin in the garden. His choppin soot aint worth takin, and his travellin soot, which I wanted, he wears all the time. I shel borrer vigorously the few days I hev left, hopin to amass enuff to keep me thro the winter.

AGRICOLA FURIOSUS.

[From the Portland Press]

The President of the Maine Board of Agriculture has violently reversed prophecy, beaten his peaceful pruning hook of frugal husbandry into the barbaric spear and again turned back his well worn plough share into an avenging sword. Or in less figurative language the pen that has written the dullest treatises on rotation of crops and cranberry culture has been dipped in the ink of newspaper warfare, and wonderful to tell, there rolls from its point a turgid torrent of epithets, punctuation and italics that would lift a southern partisan editor into transports. The Bangor WHIG, because it made a legitimate criticism of the policy pursued by the Board of Agriculture in relation to the State Fair, has been made the object of this agriculturist's wrath. As to the matter in question—the Maine State Fair, there is no difference of opinion; it was a partial if not an entire failure. The fact of this failure, it strikes us, is a legitimate matter for newspaper criticism, and the management will hardly help their cause by attributing that criticism to any such unworthy motive as the fact that the WHIG was not awarded a petty job of printing and advertising. When these gentlemen get large and broad enough to realize that the silence or approval of an independent newspaper cannot be secured by a half column advertisement or a job of printing that may net $2, they may possibly be better qualified to so run a State Fair that it will not be a failure. Indeed this paltry and oft repeated charge that the criticism of the WHIG was prompted by so unworthy a motive compels us to believe that the almighty dollar in the management of the State Fair is the principal object that has brought these gentlemen to the front.

The WHIG is amply competent to take care of itself and in this connection we reiterate that it is within the province of independent journalism to criticise the management of any enterprise that asks the public patronage and petitions for the people's money.

A Press correspondent, who attended the State Fair, criticised its management at the time, and declared if the present managers claimed the sanction of our Legislature and asked for another deficiency appropriation of money a change of managers should be made an indispensable condition. In an editorial a few days before the Fair we urged Portland manufacturers to encourage the enterprise and indicated to what ends the managers of this State Fair should aim if it was to be of use. In every particular to which we referred it was a pitiable failure; in the errors of the past which we deprecated, it was a success—We then said that the State Fair should be the means of quickening and perfecting our developing industries, of bringing together samples of the enterprise and skill of our thousand different factories and thus creating a healthy rivalry as the fairs in other States do and as we believe ours might if the list of its managers embraced the names of gentlemen who are connected with these various industries and who would conduct the exhibition on a broader and more intelligent basis. Even the present board of trustees must admit that, judged by this criterion, the Bangor exhibition was a failure. Indeed we have no hesitation in saying that several county fairs excelled the State Fair in this important direction.

In his Maine Farmer philippic, the President intimates that all their advertising failed to awaken our manufacturers to take an interest in the exhibition. Does he, by implication, charge that the men who own our factories and workshops and have the future of the State in their keeping, are less interested in an exhibition that is intended to show how much of a state Maine is, than are a dozen men who never added a dollar to the real wealth of the State or an iota to her fair fame and who have been stigmatized as the "ruffians of the Maine race course?" We do not believe it, and we do believe if the State fair should be managed as to make manufactures as prominent as horse racing these parties would soon be interested. The fact is—it cannot be disguised—that for the purpose of getting a crowd to make exhibitions pay—the present managers have run them in the interest of the race course, and thus are indirectly giving the influence of the State Society to sanction and develop a system that does not add to the general wealth or intelligence of the people

We know that we represent the better portion of our people when we demand a change in the policy of this State Society—such a change as shall bring the real interests of the State to the front. If it can be so changed the Legislature can afford to appropriate ten thousand dollars. If it cannot be so changed the coming Legislature ought to revoke its charter.

The President claims that the Trustees spent money freely in advertising—that they sent out posters by hundreds and pamphlets by scores. This is doubtless true; but in no respect have the managers disclosed their own inefficiency more plainly. People don't read posters, nor do manufacturers care for the petty premiums that any society can offer. To secure a large and successful show, there must be personal and efficient canvassing until the enterprise is once inaugurated. We believe if Portland, Lewiston, Bangor and like localities had been carefully canvassed by some of their enterprising manufacturers, the State Fair would have been a gratifying success. This course, with their advertising in the management of an experienced advertiser and presented in every paper in the State at even less cost than their posters and pamphlets, would, we are confident, have secured a magnificent exhibition of the results of the skill and enterprise of the State.

But this result will not be accomplished so long as the Society makes the race course its prominent feature and neglects to employ the appliances that business men have learned to use to secure success.

Shall we have this change of policy? If not abolish the Society or at least withdraw from it the aid and sanction of the State.

Some two score of the "coming men" of Rockland—lads from 12 to 14 years of age—have recently formed an engine company, uniformed themselves and had a small "machine," built for their use. The name adopted is "Rockland, No. 3."

A little fellow in Oxford, four years old, playing with matches in a bed room, set the clothes on fire, very much to the injury of the wardrobe of one or two members of the family. But for the prompt action of the mother two families would have been houseless.

On Sunday night, Oct 19th, about 12 o'clock the house of H. W Lincoln of West Leeds, was entered by some unknown person. Mr L's wife's sister thought she heard some one in her room and got up and went into Mr L's room and told him that there was some person in her room. Mr L. got up and took his gun and went into the room, but the rogue was gone, having unbolted the outside door and escaped.

The Oxford Register is informed that a woman from Hartford went into the store of Mr J C Fuller in Buckfield village, last Monday, and while she supposed herself not observed concealed in a basket she carried with her some $20 worth of dry goods, ribbons, &c. Mr Fuller had his eye on her during the time, and when she was about to leave proceeded to examine her basket and found his goods

The trotting advertised to take place at the Knox Trotting Park Friday 18th inst., was postponed to Monday on account of the rain. The first race was for all horses that had never beat three minutes and $80 was offered, in three purses of $50, $20 and $10. The first purse was won by "Jessie" owned by David Ames, the second by "Tiptoe" owned by Geo. O'Connor, and the third by "Honest Joe," owned by A. N Blackington. Time, 2 50½; 2 53½; 2 55. The second race was a sweepstakes for a purse of $140 which was won by Augustus Drake's g g "Honest Quaker."

The catalogue of Colby University for 1872 shows that the whole number of students is 52; divided as follows Seniors, [illegible]; Juniors 8, Sophomores, 8, Freshmen, 15. THE HORSE DISTEMPER.

Probably few people have ever so fully realized the extent to which humanity is dependent upon the services of that noble animal, the horse, as within the past few days during which an insidious disease has swept with lightning rapidity over a large extent of our territory, paralyzing business in our commercial centres, blocking the great canal highways of Western produce and seriously hampering ordinary traffic in almost every direction. Within a fortnight our people were reading with considerable scepticism the telegraphic accounts of the ravages of the horse disease in the Provinces, and to day more than forty thousand horses are reported sick in New York city, men and oxen are drawing wagons in the streets of Boston, and there is hardly a public or private stable in Bangor that has not been visited by the distemper. Opinions differ widely as to the precise cause and character of the rapidly spreading disorder, but eminent authorities ascribe it to a malarial condition of atmosphere which thus carries on the winds of the world the germs of a disease to which horses are peculiarly susceptible. Communicated to the animal by inhalation it first manifests itself in a catarrhal inflammation of the membranes of the air passages, which when neglected or improper treatment is liable to become aggravated into more serious forms, such as congestion of the lungs, etc. The disease is announced by coughing, sneezing and other evidences of the irritation of the lining of the breathing passages, and is frequently followed by a mucous discharge from the nose, enfeebled circulation of the blood and general debility. Thus far comparatively few fatal cases have been reported, and it is hoped that with careful treatment the disease may be controlled without a serious loss of animals.

As to the methods of treatment still greater diversity of views is manifested. All, however, start from the assumption that the first stages of the disease are of the nature of influenza with liability to congestion, and the remedies are varied according to the medical theories of the individual who prescribes. For instance Dr Very, employed by the city of Boston whose opinions we have before given, says that such tinctures as aconite and belladonna should never be given as they weaken the beating of the heart, while another writer asserts that Homoeopathic preparations of the first dilution of these very tinctures, given alternately once in two hours, five drops to a dose, have been extensively used with satisfactory results. Dr Liautard of New York, in a letter to the Sanitary Inspector, deprecates bloodletting, purgatives or arterial sedatives, and recommends counter irritants, as mustard applications, vaporization of the air passages, [illegible] and in cases of weakness the use of stimulants, such as carbonate of ammonia mixed with camphor. Another claims to have cured several cases by changing food from cracked corn to oats and carrots and giving from four to six quarts of old cider daily with half a teaspoonful of saltpetre in the first draught, another gives Jamaica ginger, [illegible] another recommends an ounce [illegible] wrapped in cloth [illegible] the manger. A South Boston railway superintendent [illegible] to cayenne and [illegible] and rubs the throat with liniment. Mr Choate of [illegible] highly recommends the following prescription, the beneficial effect of which, he says, is almost immediate: Sulphur, 3 oz; [illegible] nitrate, 4 oz; pulverized ginger, 3 oz; pulverized digitalis, 1 oz. The dose a tea spoonful, may be given with the food when the horse will eat with water, or laid upon the tongue when nourishment and food are refused.

Gen B S Roberts of the U S Army writes to Robert Bonner that in 1848 a disease apparently identical with the present distemper broke out among his cavalry horses in New Mexico at first proving very fatal, but that [illegible] rubbing between the lower jaws [illegible] with spirits of turpentine to produce a severe external irritation and blister, every horse thus treated was cured. The remedy is severe and makes the [illegible] sore for several weeks, but the General regarded it a prompt and sure cure for the disease.

The above are some of the numerous remedies proposed and in use in various localities and we give them for what they may be worth. But upon some of the important hygienic measures there is more unanimity. The thorough ventilation and purification of stable premises by sulphur fumigations, sprinkling of carbolic acid, copperas, chloride of lime or other reliable disinfectants will prove the simplest and yet the most powerful means of both prevention and cure. All are also agreed that it is hazardous and cruel to subject an affected animal to hard work or violent exercise. Complete rest, or gentle exercise, according to the horse's condition, with pure air and nourishing food, will go far in assisting Nature to overcome the disease, and these, combined with such judicious treatment as shall suggest itself to our many experienced horsemen will we trust prove successful in preventing serious results from the prevailing horse distemper.

For a sparkling vivacity and a peculiar aptness in selecting fresh and exhilarating topics, commend us to our evening contemporary, the Commercial. On Saturday its leading article opened with the appetizing announcement of a purpose to depart occasionally from the "dusty paths of the politics of the day and from the great whirlpool of general business and current events, and to touch upon matters in which all may have an interest, and which may serve as a respite to the mind seeking rest and recreation, after the exhausting toil and corroding cares of the week are over." The cheerful effusion thus [illegible] proved to be an historical reminiscence of—"The Tower of Babel!" We have no doubt that its publication of the Scripture account of the origin and fate of that remarkable structure may prove [illegible] to its readers; but [illegible] course of an attenuated article our neighbor deduces the moral [illegible] posed to "Centralization" and hence that the Republican victory in November but a fore-runner of another crash of Babel, we [illegible] upon the wicked coalition. As a political argument Babel is rather an ancient one, and as a preacher we do not believe our neighbor will prove a success, while continuing to bear false-witness against the President concerning those runaway colts.

Our readers will find in another column some vigorous comments from the Portland Press upon the management, or rather the mis management, of our State Agricultural Fairs. The strictures of the Press are the more significant as an effort has been made by some of the parties criticized to impute our expressions of censure to personal or local prejudice. As our Portland contemporary was competently represented here during the Fair, its opinions are based upon actual observation, and it may be fairly assumed that when the demand for a radical change in the management is so emphatically expressed both in the Eastern and Western sections of the State, its necessity has become generally as well as "painfully apparent."

The Commercial thinks it doubtful if Banks pulls through. We believe the Springfield Republican made a similar remark!

ONE OF MR. GREELEY'S WAR WHIMS. A gentleman who was on intimate terms with Mr Lincoln's administration gives an account of the great anxiety Mr Greeley caused Mr Lincoln and those immediately about him at one of the dark periods of the war, which was kept very quiet at the time and of which little definite has been made public since. It seems that Mr Greeley came to Washington and insisted to Mr Lincoln and several of his supporters in the Senate that something must be done immediately to stop the war. The plan he had convinced himself as best to pursue under all circumstances was to induce the South to agree with the North to submit all questions at issue between the two sections to the arbitration of the Emperor of France. Several attempts were made by leading republicans, who were in the confidence of the authorities in the matter, to convince Mr Greeley of the great harm that might come to the Union cause by the discussion of such a question. He could not be moved, however, and announced his purpose of returning to New York to begin the advocacy of this step in a leading editorial of the Tribune. The matter caused great anxiety at the White House and in the War Department. Finally a conference was held, several Senators being present. It was agreed that a concerted effort should be made to quiet Mr Greeley and divert him from his purpose. As a means of assembling the men selected to talk Mr Greeley out of his whim, Mr Forney, the clerk of the Senate, gave a lunch party to Mr. Greeley, and at this party he was really drawn into a discussion of his idea of French arbitration. He was opposed on all sides, and finally so far yielded as to promise that he would not openly advocate the proposition in the Tribune. He, however, adhered to the last to the declaration that, in his opinion, it was the fairest and most politic course to take, and all that he would agree to in the matter was the promise indicated.

A SENSATION SPOILED. On Thursday a woman died in Washington in the miserable shanty of an old colored woman, and the coroner's jury, returned a verdict that the diseased came to her death from congestion of the brain, superinduced by blows inflicted on her head by some person unknown to the jury, and from intemperance and exposure. The colored woman testified that the name of the woman was Annie Dean who had lived with her, off and on, for five years that she had married her father's coachman and run away from New York, that her husband had left her, and her father's family was very rich, but had discarded her. The Washington papers, however, deny the story, and state that the woman had sought notoriety by pretending to be the victim of the much talked-of elopement. The coachman Dean and his romantic wife are said to be living in comfortable circumstances.

FALSEHOODS EXPOSED. United States Treasurer Spinner in response to a letter from Hon O L Merriam of New York, clearly answers the wholesale charges of the Democrats and Liberals that vast amounts of money have been stolen from the Treasury during General Grant's administration, and also the charge that in the past year alone, three millions in coupons have been paid on over issue bonds. He demonstrates that both charges are wholesale falsehoods. In one paragraph of his letter Mr Spinner says: The public debt has not been increased one cent since General Grant assumed the administration of the government. Hundreds of millions of government bonds have been paid and cancelled, but not one single bond has ever been added, except in exchange for another of like amount. The bonds could therefore not have been increased during his term of office. Mr Spinner then refers to the fact that the Treasury was subjected to two investigations last winter, one by a committee of experts, of which George W Riggs, the banker, was chairman, and another by the committee of Congress, and that in both cases everything was reported right. Mr Spinner thinks in conclusion, that it is almost useless to disprove these falsehoods, for as soon as one lie is nailed, the Democrats and Liberals, with a rich inventive genius, concoct another.

What was the Commercial's last remark about "Sunday driving?"

MR. GREELEY'S OPINION OF THE COLORED RACE. The following letter was written two years ago by Mr Greeley, unsolicited, to Mrs Josephine Griffing, the well known laborer among freedmen who were brought to Washington by an association of which Mrs Griffin was agent. She was constantly engaged in finding places at the North where freedmen could go to work. The motive that prompted Mr Greeley to write was never known by the association —

NEW YORK TRIBUNE,
NEW YORK, Sept. 7, 1870.

Mrs Griffing: In my judgment you and others who wish to befriend the blacks crowded into Washington do them great injury. Had they been told years ago, "you must find work, go out and seek it," they would have been spared much misery. They are an uneasy worthless race, taking no thought of the morrow and liking to lean on those who befriend them. Your course aggravates their weakness when you should raise their ambition and stimulate them to self-reliance. Unless you change your course speedily and signally the swarming of the blacks to the District will increase, and the argument that slavery is their natural condition will be immeasurably strengthened. If there be any woman capable of earning wages who would rather some one else than herself should pay her passage to a place where she can have work, then she needs reconstruction and awakening to a just and honest self-reliance.

Yours,
HORACE GREELEY.

Y.—a society of journalists and professional men—propose to erect a monument to his memory in Prospect Park, and if possible bring the remains from Tunis to Greenwood Cemetery.

Consumption can be Cured.
SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC,
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,
Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.
Sometimes medicines that will stop a cough will often occasion the death of the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and, in fact, clogging the action of the very organs that caused the cough.
Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the causes of two thirds of the cases of consumption. Many are now complaining with dull pain in the side, the bowels sometimes costive and sometimes too loose, tongue coated, pain in the shoulder blade, feeling sometimes very restless, and at other times drowsy, the food that is taken lies heavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching of wind. These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver. Persons so affected if they take one or two heavy colds and if the cough in these cases be suddenly stopped, the lung, liver and stomach clog, and remain torpid and inactive, and before the patient is aware of his situation, the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, and death is the inevitable result.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.
Schenck's Seaweed tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juice of the stomach, digests easily, nourishes the system and creates a healthy circulation of the blood. When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, and the patient is of a bilious habit, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required.
These medicines are prepared by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, Penn., and for sale by GEO C GOODWIN & CO, Hanover street, Boston, & JOHN F. HENRY, 8 College place, New York, Wholesale Agents.
For sale by Druggists generally.

MAINE NEWS.

LAUNCHED.

CAMDEN, Oct. 26.

A fine three masted schooner of 350 tons, ready for sea, named the Stephen Bennett, was launched this morning at Rockport, from the yard of Carleton, Norwood & Co. With the exception of the captain's interest she is owned mostly by parties in town.

THE HORSE DISEASE.

IN BRUNSWICK AND TOPSHAM.

BRUNSWICK, Oct. 26.

The horse distemper has made its appearance here and at Topsham. The cases thus far reported are of a mild character.

IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Oct. 27.

A visit to the livery stables to-night shows that nearly every horse is sick, and probably one-half of the horses in this city are affected. No horse cars have been run to-day, and a dozen horses have not appeared upon the streets. The horse car company has some forty or fifty horses sick, and the [illegible] belonging to the Bakers are similarly affected.

FROM PORTLAND.

STEAMER BURNED.

PORTLAND, Oct. 26.

The little steamer Oriental which plies on Lake Sebago, was burned at Harrison to-night. The lake navigation is temporarily suspended.

FATALLY STABBED.

PORTLAND, Oct. 27.

A man named Sewell Thurlow, was dangerously and it is thought fatally stabbed by the [illegible], at North Gray, Friday night by [illegible] Farwell. Farwell was arrested.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

The Horse Distemper!

10,000 CASES ESTIMATED IN NEW YORK!

Business Seriously Obstructed!

Alarming Symptoms Reported!

No Horses on the Streets of Boston.

MEN AND OXEN MOVING GOODS!

Doubtful Report of a Man Affected!

NEARLY ALL THE HORSES IN NEW YORK AFFECTED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. The horse malady has spread to such an extent that almost all the horses in the city are said to be sick, [illegible] some form or another from symptoms of the epidemic. There are thousands of [illegible] which have not yet been put up, but the [illegible] observation goes to show that [illegible] of these have germs of the disorder in their systems.

30,000 TO 40,000 CASES.

The disease thus far has been rather slow in its development, and it is not known yet how [illegible] stages have been seen. It is estimated in the city and immediate vicinity there are from thirty to forty thousand horses suffering from well-developed symptoms.

NEW AND ALARMING PHASES.

The disease has begun to exhibit new and alarming phases, which are looked on as very dangerous. The inflammation of the throat extends to the lungs, and rapidly becomes more alarming, and the coughing is frightfully convulsive. The animal pants, and becomes quite cold at the extremities. This seems to be a warning of the fatal end of the malady, and if it continues as widely prevalent as it is now for a few days longer, there can be little doubt that hundreds of horses affected will die.

IMPORTANCE OF REST.

The street car companies, some of the [illegible] proprietors, and many of the merchants are still working their [illegible] horses, and in all these cases the [illegible] are becoming more alarming. In [illegible] stables where all business is suspended till the disease is mastered, very favorable reports are made. In some instances, convalescence of the horses is very rapid. The [illegible] and racers stabled in the city seem to have nearly escaped the disease. A [illegible] is already almost recovered from her [illegible] attack.

900 CARS WITHDRAWN.

At least six hundred cars have been withdrawn from the city railroad lines on this [illegible] alone. The disease throws thousands of men out of work. Hackmen have almost [illegible] their fares for passengers in utter [illegible] of law, and refuse to carry those who [illegible] to pay illegal rates. The managers of [illegible] companies believe that at the present [illegible] their stock cannot hold out longer than [illegible] day night.

NO COMPLETE CURES—DETENTION OF STEAMERS.

No stable as yet reports that any horse has [illegible] perfectly cured. It is feared that ocean steamers will have to postpone sailing, owing to the impossibility of getting freight on board.

LATER—NO FATAL CASES.

The ravages of the horse disease continues unabated but up to this afternoon there are [illegible] well-founded reports of fatal cases.

THE DISEASE UNABATED—GENERAL ALARM.

Saturday evening—The horse disease to-night is reported to be unabated. In fact, the distemper is said to be spreading. [illegible] of alarm are increasing; owners of animals not seriously affected are keeping their horses in stables and giving them every care.

RECOVERIES REPORTED.

Express companies report the recovery in some cases of their horses. It is stated that the United States Express Company has forty car loads of freight in Jersey City in consequence of the scarcity of teams.

THE EUROPEAN STEAMERS

were not delayed to-day although they have been inconvenienced somewhat by the [illegible] of cart drivers. Some of the lines have to have their cargo on barges along the docks and piers. It looks like Sunday the same may be said of some of the freight depots.

A NOVEL SIGHT

was furnished this afternoon by some [illegible] men dragging loaded wagons while others pushed behind. The loss and to the business community is already said to be very heavy and will reach hundreds of thousands of dollars.

SERIOUS PROSPECT.

If the present state of things continues a week steamers cannot be unloaded, and a general cessation of business must ensue as regards carrying freight.

A FEW FATAL CASES

are reported but it is not definitely settled whether they have been caused by the epidemic.

DURATION OF THE DISEASE.

Medical authority states that under the most favorable circumstances it runs from 7 to 10 days, and with the present inconvenience to the public is liable to continue until the latter part of the coming week and by which time the horses first attacked should be convalescent.

LATER—NO ABATEMENT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. The horse disease in this city and Brooklyn is not abating. [illegible] railroad lines have comparatively few [illegible] running. The Mayor of Poughkeepsie [illegible] to send 100 or more yokes of oxen, [illegible] in case their services are demanded [illegible] account of the horse disease.

PROBABLE SENSATION—A MAN SAID TO BE AFFECTED.

BOSTON, Oct. 26. The first known and authenticated case of horse distemper in a human being took place to-day. Russell White, the driver of engine No. 8, while attending his horses, was suddenly taken with the disease and was taken to his home. He had all symptoms of coughing, running at nose and eyes, and general feverish debility.

BOSTON, SUNDAY—HOPES THAT THE WORST IS OVER.

BOSTON, Oct. 27. All horse railroad travel in Boston and vicinity was suspended to-day. Rain continues. Owners of horses unattacked by the distemper keep them sheltered for safety, and the horse is just now a rarity in the streets. Many animals first attacked are said to be convalescing and it is believed have got about the worst of the visitation.

NEW YORK.

PACIFIC MAIL S. S. CO.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. The President of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company said in an interview last evening that the company had sold the 27,300 shares which were in the treasury, netting $2,730,000. They had purchased five steamers from the Panama Railroad Company, and five from Holliday's line on the Pacific coast. It had paid $1,700,000 toward the building of six new steamships, and that the company owned 10,000 shares of the Panama Railroad.

SATAN REPROVING SIN.

The chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee has issued an address calling upon the Democrats to arrest all parties attempting bribery in the election.

ARRIVAL OF MR. WASHBURNE.

Arrived, steamer Deutchland, from Bremen. Among the passengers is Hon. E. B. Washburne, Minister to France.

THE BANK STATEMENT

for the week is as follows:—Increase of loans, $4,367,400, and of net deposits, $217,100; decrease of specie, $1,830,000, of legal tenders, $244,300, and of circulation, $20,300.

THE TOTAL REGISTRY

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.

of New York this year is 148,810, against last year 152,592. In Brooklyn the registry is 75,517. The present registry law of this city is so stringent that ex-Collector Thomas Murphy was unable to secure registration.

THE DEMOCRATS ALARMED.

The News, Ben. Wood's paper, has a significant editorial this evening, suggesting the withdrawal of either Lawrance or O'Brien from the Mayoralty candidature with a view to prevent the success of a Republican candidate to that office.

ANOTHER TICKET.

The National Democracy has made the following nominations:—For Mayor, John McCool; Judge of Supreme Court, John McKean; Judge of Superior Court, James C. Spencer.

MINISTER WASHBURNE

says that he came from Paris to vote for General Grant and take part in the campaign and shall return to France as soon as possible.

ILLINOIS.

FRIGHTFUL BALLOON ACCIDENT—A DEATH LEAP OF 400 FEET.

AURORA, Oct. 26. A fearful balloon accident happened at De Kalb yesterday. An aeronaut had a balloon ready to ascend when, before he had entered the car, it broke loose and flew upward. A hanging rope caught around the leg of a man named McCann, and carried him up to the height of 400 feet, when he managed to get into the basket; and when the balloon had reached the distance of 400 feet from the earth McCann deliberately jumped out and was picked up dead.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE RELEASE OF SEIZED GOODS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that seized goods, not exceeding $1000 in value, may be released to the claimant by the Collector, on authority from the Department, on the payment of their appraised value, and of the expense incident to seizure, and waiving in writing all claims to legal proceedings in consequence of the seizure. If the goods exceed $500 in value, and their release is not approved, the Collector is to report them for libel to the District Attorney; but if they don't exceed $500 in value, and if they are not released to the owner, they should be advertised and sold, and the claimant notified of his right to contest forfeiture, on the conditions specified in section 12 of the act of July, 1866.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—8 P. M.

Probabilities.

From the lower lakes to the Middle Atlantic and New England coasts, northeastly to northwestrly winds, clearing and partly cloudy weather with possibly occasional light rain on Monday; for the South Atlantic and Gulf States, clear weather and northerly winds; in the northeast with falling barometer, partly cloudy and warm weather with brisk and northeasterly winds extending with increasing cloudiness to Lake Michigan, and with light southerly winds to Illinois and Missouri. In the middle Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, generally clear weather and winds veering to the southerly. The Ohio river will rise from Parkersburg to Louisville on Monday. The Gulf and Southwest reports are deficient.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

STEAMER DISABLED.

LONDON, Oct. 26. The steamship Altrato, which left Plymouth on the first of October for Melbourne, has returned to the former port, having broken her shaft when several day's out. She experienced very severe weather on her return, and three of her crew were washed overboard and drowned.

COTTON MILL BURNED.

Cross & Co.'s cotton mills at Bolton were destroyed by fire last night. These mills were among the most extensive in the town, and employed 41,000 spindles. A large number of operatives have been thrown out of work by the conflagration.

GERMANY.

THE IMPERIAL ADVISORS IN THE SAN JUAN CASE.

LONDON, Oct. 27. The names of the Imperial advisors on whose report the judgment on the San Juan boundary case is based are Grimin, Vice President of the Supreme Court, Kiepert, the eminent geographer, and Goldschmidt, a member of the Supreme Tribunal of Leipzig. The referees handed in their reports some weeks ago. The reports will not be published. They charge England with vagueness in the wording of the treaty of 1846, and state that the word southerly means the shortest channel to the Strait of Juan de Fuca. A special messenger left Berlin last night for Washington.

OATS are not brought into market in any great quantity and good lots will sell quick at 50 cents per bushel.

BEANS. Yellow-eyed beans have been brought in very sparingly during the week, and sold at $2,50 to $2.62½ for some extra hand-picked lots. Pea beans are very scarce and nice lots would sell at $3,00 to $3,25 per bushel.

BUTTER has been brought in very plenty the past week, the quality averaging about the same for the last two or three months—rather poor. It sells at 20 to 25 and 28 cents per pound.

—President Allen stated at the Farmers' Convention at Skowhegan, when speaking of the profits of small fruit culture, that one of the students at the Agricultural College was maintained at the Institution from the proceeds of strawberries grown and sold by his widowed mother from one acre of land.

DROWNED. Our correspondent "Nepos" writes that on the [illegible] instant a young man named [illegible], in the employ of [illegible] [illegible] was drowned near the Grand Lake stream tannery, while crossing the lake. The deceased had relatives residing in Poland in this State. At last accounts his body had not been recovered.

—We learn that Mr. L. A. Torrens has nearly completed the arrangements for a course of lectures and concerts to be given in this city this season, and they will be announced this week.

CRANBERRY SAUCE. A young man who prides himself on his muscle and proficiency in the "manly art" went into a store on the East side Saturday and after making some loud talk tipped over a barrel of cranberries in his exit, following up this feat by "stumping" one of the proprietors out into the street. The aforesaid proprietor accepted the challenge, and after wiping up the mud for a square rod with the man-of-muscle's back, ended the little game by throwing him bodily over a fence. The muscular youth doesn't like to have anybody say cranberries to him now.

MR. HENRY F. MCLAUGHLIN, junior partner of the firm of W. D. McLaughlin & Son, proprietors of the Franklin House, died at the hotel Saturday morning about 8 o'clock. He had been ill for a long time past, and his death had been for some days hourly expected. His funeral, which took place yesterday afternoon, was attended by Rising Virtue Lodge, F. and A. M., of which he was a member, and by a large concourse of his friends and acquaintances. Mr. McLaughlin has been for many years engaged in the hotel and livery business, and was well known all over the State.

LOW AWNINGS. We have repeatedly mentioned the fact that a great many awnings and signs on our business streets are hung lower than the law allows, and people who have had occasion to carry umbrellas during the rainy season of late, have had the fact brought home to them very forcibly. Awnings are getting out of season, it is true, but the rods remain, as well as the hanging signs, and they ought to be raised at least high enough to admit of a man with a silk hat passing under them.

DEATH OF AARON BENNER. Mr. Aaron Benner, one of the men injured by the premature explosion of a blast in the ledge at at the corner of Front and May streets, on Tuesday, Sept 24th, died of his injuries about 2 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, at his residence on Broadway above the intersection of Centre street. It has been evident for some time past that he could not survive, as besides his shocking burns and cuts, his spine was fractured, producing paralysis of the lower limbs and rendering him entirely helpless. He has suffered intensely from his injuries, but for a short time previous to his death, was comparatively easy. He was 52 years of age and leaves a wife and several children.

THE CATACOMBS. The lecture at the First Parish church last evening, by Rev. Jules de Launay, on the Catacombs and the Saints and Martyrs of Rome, was attended by a large and deeply interested audience. The speaker first described the wonderful excavations known as the catacombs, which were once the abodes as well as the burial places of the primitive Christians, who were driven there to escape the persecutions of the rulers of the city. From the inscriptions and epitaphs in the catacombs the history and progress of these refugees from pagan violence, can be traced, and the evidences of their firm and undying faith in the religion taught by the Savior is plainly revealed. The discourse was very interesting and held the attention of the audience to the close.

PRESENTATION. On the first of September six young men were out sailing on Pushaw Lake, when their boat was overturned by a squall, and one of their number, Timothy Lynes of this city, was drowned. Some, if not all, of the others would have probably shared his fate, had it not been for the aid of Capt. Joseph McNally, who succeeded in rescuing them at great personal risk. On Saturday last the survivors presented Captain McNally with an elegant gold medal, bearing the following inscription:—"Presented to Captain Joseph McNally by L. V. Chadwick, Harry Hunt, J. Jenks, Edward Fanning and John Thomas, for his timely exertions in rescuing them from drowning, Sept. 1st, 1872." The medal is one and five eighths inches in diameter, weighs 24 pwts., and bears on the reverse a well-engraved design representing a sloop under full sail. It cost $50, and is a credit to the designer and engraver, Mr. Eben Stevens of this city.

STATE COLLEGE. We have received from President Allen the annual catalogue of the State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, by which we learn that there are now 71 students connected with the institution—7 Seniors, 7 Juniors, 25 Sophomores and 32 Freshmen. It is the design of the College to give to the young men of the State who may desire it, at a moderate cost, the advantages of a thorough, liberal and practical education, by means of the most approved methods of instruction, by giving to every one who pursues the course of study an opportunity practically to apply the lessons learned in the class-room, and by furnishing him facilities for defraying a part of his expenses by his own labor. As the conditions for admission seem to have been misunderstood in some localities, we herewith append them:—

"Candidates for admission to the Freshmen Class must be not less than fifteen years of age, and must pass a satisfactory examination in Arithmetic, Geography, English Grammar, History of the United States, and Algebra as far as Quadratic Equations. Although the knowledge of Latin is not required as a condition of admission, yet the study of that language is earnestly recommended to all who intend to enter this institution. Candidates for advanced standing must sustain a satisfactory examination in the preparatory branches, and in all the studies previously pursued by the class they propose to enter.—Satisfactory testimonials of good moral character and industrious habits will be rigidly exacted."

The expenses are very moderate. Tuition is free to students from all parts of the State. Those from other States will be charged $12 per term. Room rent is free, and each room is furnished with a bedstead, matrass, table, sink and chairs. All other bedding and furniture must be supplied by the students, who will also furnish their own lights. Board, washing and fuel will be furnished at cost.—The price of board has been, hitherto, three dollars per week, the fuel and washing fifty cents per week. These bills, with those for incidental expenses, are payable at or before the close of each term.

THE HORSE DISTEMPER. The general alarm which has prevailed for the past few days concerning the spread of the distemper now raging among the horses in this city, seems to have disappeared, and although nearly all the stable keepers have sick animals, they think that the worst is over and that their horses are recovering. They all say that the first appearance of the disease is manifested by a dry, hard cough, followed by discharges from the nose, similar to those in common horse-ail, yet differing from this in the fact that there is no swelling under the throat. From the first symptoms the horse loses his appetite, grows dull about the eyes and gradually becomes too weak to be worked with safety. The general opinion is that warmth, rest and quiet are the principal things to be attended to in the treatment. In the private stables throughout the city nearly all the horses are [illegible], many that were supposed to be free from the disease were kept in, but in a few days began to show all the symptoms. This fact taken in consideration [illegible] [illegible] successive days of damp weather will not only render the treatment more difficult, but prevent a check being put upon the spread of the disease which at present has in a measure interrupted business. Should the weather for the next ten days be free from dampness the majority of horses in the city will be in a condition to work moderately.

The following stables have the largest numbers unable to work: Abram Woodard's, between thirty-five and forty, many of which belong to private individuals; J. B. P. Wheelden's, twenty; J. E. Harriman & Co's., twenty-one; Carter & Harriman, fifteen; John Harrington, twenty-eight; L. Nichols, forty; G. W. Spratt's, nine; Franklin House stable, five; Bangor House stable, seven; National House stable, seven; all the horses of the Eastern Express Company, and Danforth's express.

The number of horses in the city now suffering from the distemper is probably upwards of five hundred, and there will doubtless be many others taken with it during the next few days. There has not yet been a fatal case here, as our reporter was informed by the stablemen in the different parts of the city, nor do horsemen apprehend any more serious result than will arise from a mild sickness, or as is common with horses recovering from horse-ail.

BANGOR POLICE COURT.

JUDGE CLARK, PRESIDING.

Saturday, Oct. 26. State vs. Albert Turner; larceny of some tools from Blackman's mill in Bradley; fined $5 and costs; appealed and furnished bonds for his appearance at the February term of the S. J. Court.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

OCTOBER TERM.

HON. EDWARD KENT, Presiding.
EZRA C. BRETT, Esq., Clerk.

Saturday, Oct. 26th. The juries having been discharged, the Court was occupied today in closing up the minor affairs of the term, and adjourned to Tuesday next at 10 o'clock, when final proceedings will be had.

A SAFETY SWITCH. Among other suggestions elicited by the Seabrook disaster, a correspondent of the Boston Advertiser thus describes a "Safety Switch" in use upon some of the railway lines.

"This is its construction: The lever of the switch is enclosed in a small house or sentry-box, the door to which is locked. When the switchman enters the house and opens the switch he thereby shuts the door of the house or box, from whence he cannot make his exit till by shutting the switch, he thereby opens the door of the box. If by any chance a train comes along while the switch is open he must make his escape from the box to avoid the probability of being himself killed. He cannot make his escape without shutting the switch. Therefore every time a switchman opens a switch he is bound under penalty of death to have it closed before any train comes along."

One man can attend to only one switch, and the fact that it calls for an extra expenditure for labor will probably prevent its being used by the great number of our corporations who seem to prefer paying money for damages rather than in the employment of a sufficient number of flagmen, conductors, etc., to make travelling safe."

A MODEL PATRIOT. The Washington Patriot, the organ of the Congressional Democratic Committee, indorses Mr. Greeley's Pittsburg attack on Union soldiers, as follows:—

"The mob of little generals and ex-deputy provost marshals who took part in or sympathized with the Pittsburg soldiers and sailors' convention, is giving daily evidence to the country that its members have not ceased to regret those palmy days when, with fighting and marching armies well in their front, they revelled and grew rich in petty tyrannies of posts and garrisons. It is the nature of such valiant Bobadils to feel the weight of their shoulder straps more than the pressure of reason or the cogency of common sense, and they have consequently been deeply resenting the plain words which Mr. Greeley so manfully spoke of and to them as during the war they would similarly have resented a challenge to battle or an interruption of their cotton-saving industries."

Is not that rather a "slap" at Banks?

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Ex-Gov. W. F. Johnston of Penn., died in Pittsburg, Friday.

Information has been received of the death of Chas. E. Perry, U. S. Consul at Aspinwall.

Great crow for little Jaws—Democratic shouts over Indiana "victory."

Hugh Maguire, one of the oldest priests in the United States, died in Brooklyn Friday, aged 77 years.

Gen. Banks has received and accepted the Labor Reform nomination for Congress in the 3d Mass., District.

Anna Dickenson scolded the voters of this country for preferring Grant to Greeley, in New York, Friday night.

A vigorous writer in the North American Review, says that Horace Greeley, in the great crucial crisis of secession, when he ought to have been adamant, was putty!

The New York Tribune displays the joy of a child with a new toy over the promised support of Anna E. Dickenson. This is the more remarkable since the Tribune has had in times past only sneers for who dabble in politics.

It was "apathy" that beat Voorhees, he says. Very likely, and the complaint seems to be as "catching" as the Canadian horse cholera. Apathy, and too many votes on the other side, will lay out Greeleyism cold as a wedge on the 5th of November.

Mr. Isaac D. Hatch, a well-known and influential Democrat of Buffalo, N. Y., has declared for Grant and Wilson. His accession will have, says the New York Post, a good effect upon the Democrats of Erie county, who were not even before very enthusiastic for the Greeley bargain.

The Albany Evening Journal says: "We do not see how it is possible, with proper vigilance and work, for the Republicans to be beaten in New York on the Presidency. The majority for Gen. Grant may be thirty thousand—it may be fifty thousand—it will certainly be enough. And what of Gen. Dix and the State ticket? Their election is equally assured."

This is the wail of the Galveston (Texas) News over the recantation of Greeleyism by Gen. Longstreet: "The once glorious soldier has gone darkling down, and a memory clings to our hearts, while there rises in his place one who wears but the outward semblance of the hero, and who rides us down upon the waves of an unhappy oppression."

So sad!

Annie Dugan, an Irish girl in the employ of T. H. Dinsmore of Skowhegan, died Tuesday night. It seems that she had had trouble with her teeth, and Tuesday, a young man named Thomas Brennan, who was keeping company with her, brought a dose of oil of cedar, as he says by the girl's request, she saying that "she had the tooth-ache and that it would ease it." He denies all knowledge of any other intended use for it. The coroner's jury which held the inquest on the body, returned the following verdict: "That the deceased came to her death by reason of an overdose of cedar administered by her own hand for the purpose of procuring abortion."

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years continues to secure patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

NOW.

BY CHARLES MACKAY.

The venerable Past is past;
'Tis dark, and shines not in the ray;
'Twas good, no doubt—'tis gone at last—
There dawns another day.
Why should we sit where ivies creep
And shroud ourselves in charnels deep,
Or the world's yesterdays deplore
Mid crumbling ruins' mossy hoar?
Why should we see with dead men's eyes,
Looking at Was from morn to night,
When beauteous, Now, the divine To Be,
Woos with their charms our living sight?
Why should we hear but echoes dull,
When the world of sound, so beautiful,
Will give us music of our own?
Why in the darkness should we grope,
When the sun, in heaven's resplendent cope,
Shines as bright as ever it shone?

The Present needs us. Every age
Bequeaths the next for heritage
No lazy luxury or delight,
But strenuous labor for the right,
For Now, the child and sire of Time,
Demands the deeds of earnest men
To make it better than the past,
And stretch the circle of its ken.
Now is a fact that men deplore,
Though it might bless them evermore:
Would they but fashion it aright,
'Tis ever new, 'tis ever bright.
Time nor Eternity hath seen
A repetition of delight
In all its phases; ne'er hath been
For men or angels that which is;
And that which is hath ceased
Ere we have breathed it, and its place
Is lost in the eternity.
But Now is ever good and fair,
Of the Infinite the heir,
And we of it. So let us live
That from the Past we may receive
Light for the Now—from Now a joy
That Fate nor Time shall e'er destroy.

The Last of the Loan
OF THE
CHICAGO, DANVILLE & VINCENNES
Railroad Company.

TO CAREFUL INVESTORS!

It is seldom that Mortgages upon new Railroads are considered sufficiently safe for the investment of Trust Funds. It is only when a Railroad is earning, net, an excess of its interest obligations, with a certainty of a steady growth, that its Bonds can be said to be perfectly safe.

The CHICAGO, DANVILLE AND VINCENNES RAILROAD is doing this, and has its certainty. That part of it known as the ILLINOIS DIVISION (from Chicago to Danville, 132 Miles,) was finished last year, and its gross earnings have increased from $34,484.07 in December, 1871, to $57,637.95 in August, 1872.

The net earnings for August were $30,412.46, or at the rate of $364,949.52 per annum. The total interest liability upon the total issue of Bonds upon both the Illinois and Indiana divisions is $280,000 gold. The Illinois division is, therefore, earning, net, more than enough to pay interest upon the entire bonded debt upon the whole road.

THE INDIANA DIVISION, is about eighty miles in length, traversing extensive Bituminous Coal fields, and making a direct (and the shortest possible) line between Chicago and the Block Coal district at Brazil.

The iron and other materials for the Indiana Division have all been bought and paid for in cash; a part of it is now in operation, and the entire Division is to be finished this season and opened to a profitable business.

The company is now in debt, and owns a large and very valuable real estate in Chicago, beside having an equipment of twenty-three first-class locomotives and about 700 cars.

A first mortgage upon such a road, at the rate of $18,500 per mile is a safe investment, and we know of no other railroad bond, at the price asked for this, that can demonstrate a similar value as a security for savings banks and others.

We have sold nearly two millions of these bonds to savings banks, trust companies and the most careful investors, and have but $850,000 bonds remaining.

They are for $1,000 each, and have forty years to run. Interest

7 PER CENT. GOLD, payable April and October. Present price 90 and accrued interest from October 1st in currency.

The last week of our sales of ILLINOIS DIVISION BONDS amounted to $500,000. Early orders are therefore suggested, in order to secure any portion of this extremely desirable loan.

The following are some of the useful improvements of this Range.

1st. It has six Boiling Holes.

3d. It has a nice arrangement for the admission of cold air for perfectly regulating the draft, and keeping a continuous fire when desired.

NORTH AUBURN, Maine, Aug. 31, 1872.
MR. FRANK KINSMAN, Augusta, Me—Dear Sir: I have been troubled with lung disease for fifteen years. I was under Dr. H. Irish's treatment of Turner Village, for ten years; he was the leading physician of the town. I have had five good physicians as there were in Auburn and Turner to try to cure me; and other physicians have examined my lungs; one of them, Dr. Alonzo Garcelon of Lewiston, gave me medical advice several times; he said I never could expect to recover, for there was a large cavity on the upper part of the left lung. I was confined to my bed for 13 years. I had tubercles on my lungs, and they were ulcerated very bad. I have had several bleeding spells, and was brought so low that I could only be moved on a sheet for five months to have my bed made. My cough was always the worst in the morning. The doctors did their best to cure me, and after trying five of the leading patent medicines I came to the conclusion that there was nothing on earth that would give me relief when I needed it the most; but now I find I have got to give up that idea, for Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam has done it. I was surprised one morning after reading your advertisement and procuring a bottle of your Balsam of Wakefield Bros. at Lewiston, and taking some, that it did not make me sick, as other medicines had done. I found it very pleasant to take. I have used three bottles; no bleeding now, no ulcers, no tubercles. I cannot find words to tell you how much better I am since taking your Balsam. I send this my unsolicited testimonial, for the benefit of the many thousands who are suffering from lung disease, that they may be induced to try this wonderful healing Balsam. Hoping that God may bless you in the great work you are doing by relieving and curing the suffering. I am yours respectfully,
REBECCA W. COFFIN.

BOSTON, March 28 1872.
Mr. F. W. Kinsman, Augusta, Me.
Dear Sir: Having used your Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam in my family with complete success, I take pleasure in adding my testimonial to a remedy of such excellent medical properties. The greatest success of all was the complete cure of a cough of five months duration. Two bottles of your valuable remedy effected a cure that four skillful physicians failed to do. I would not be without it, and cheerfully recommend it to all. Wishing you success in your wonderful work, I remain yours respectfully,
JONATHAN OSBORN.
